THE AUGUST LEDGER · MONTH IN REVIEW

August closes with 1.69M orders — and a defining Week 4 surge.

Volume accelerated through the month as operations expanded capacity, strengthened partnerships and prepared for new city launches.

August brought a decisive step forward in operational scale. Total orders reached 1,693,827, with Week 4 peaking at 562K — a 40% increase against Week 3. The result underlines the growing strength of the marketplace, while placing a sharper focus on customer experience as demand rises.

Across support and onboarding, the story was one of stronger throughput and faster handling. Teams reduced waiting times, improved handle times and opened the door to round-the-clock coverage. The key leadership priority now is translating operational improvement into a stronger customer satisfaction outcome.

THE FORWARD DESK · SEPTEMBER AND BEYOND

A wider map, a 24/7 operation, and smarter systems ahead.

Key highlights from the desk

Partnerships accelerated in August. The NRAI collaboration is connecting the business with restaurants across locations, while Mervis now supports customer service alongside its earlier onboarding and delivery support remit.

Hyderabad went live on 7 September. BPOC joins as a new delivery partner support provider, and Kolkata and Delhi are the next cities on the expansion map.

Operational hours have expanded from 7am–3am to a full 24×7. For restaurant onboarding, the immediate target is to activate 3,000 more restaurants in the upcoming month.

Scale is only meaningful when every customer, partner and merchant can feel it working.

System automation & dashboard agenda
